Steel Industry Ready To Raise Pay Boost Offer

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The steel industry was reported ready today to raise its offer of a two-per cent pay hike for the United Steelworkers Union in exchange for a strike postponement.

It was the first time negotiators for 11 major steel companies were reported ready to sweeten the pot in their high-stakes poker game with the union.

The development came amid signs of strong pressure from the Johnson administration, which believes a strike would be a disaster to the nation's booming economy.

Deadline Saturday

There was no indication of just how much the industry was willing to boost the ante to postpone Saturday's 12:01 a.m. strike deadline.

The industry's previous 2 per cent offer, estimated as amounting to 5 to 7 cents, is a long way from union demands totaling 17.9 cents an hour.

While the industry's new offer was worked out in secret, top administration officials in Washington warned a steel strike would take the steam out of the economic boom for which President Johnson claims major credit.

At the same time, it was learned, the steel industry warned the administration that in boosting its money offer for labor peace, it will almost certainly have to raise steel prices.

Mediator Keeps Working

While the Johnson administration would prefer no price hikes that might boost most other living costs, it is believed this would be more acceptable to the White House than an economy-crippling strike.

Two Cabinet members, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, emphasized in Washington radio-telephone interviews the administration's deep concern over a possible steel strike. Connor said it would be disastrous to the economy, and Fowler said a strike of any length would seriously threaten economic prospects.

While steel talks were formally in recess here Sunday, chief federal mediator William E. Simkin was known to be working day and night to achieve a settlement.

Carnival Ride Takes 3 Lives

DETROIT (AP) — A carnival thrill-ride claimed its third child victim Sunday as demands were made for new safety laws at amusement places in Michigan.

Nancy Lee Matthews, 8, died in Wayne County General Hospital of injuries suffered Saturday on a carnival's "Sky Comet."

Killed outright were Sharon Hawks, 14, and her brother, Grant Thomas Hawks, 12, in the collapse of a revolving steel arm holding a bucket-type seat.

Two other children, Nancy's sister, Susan Raye Matthews, 10, and the girls' cousin, Bonnie Matthews, 8, were hurt seriously. Both remained in the hospital.

All five had taken the ride together at a carnival operating at the shopping center of suburban Taylor Township.

State Rep. Daniel S. Cooper and State Sen. John Mc Cauley, both of the Detroit suburban area, said they would sponsor legislation requiring periodic inspection of such amusement rides.

Police Chief Raymond L. Quigel of Taylor Township said a connecting shackle had broken. He said the shackle connected to a cable to boom from which the bucket seat was suspended.

At the same time, it was learned, the steel industry warned the administration that in boosting its money offer for labor peace, it will almost certainly have to raise steel prices.

While the Johnson administration would prefer no price hikes that might boost most other living costs, it is believed this would be more acceptable to the White House than an economy-crippling strike.

Fowler, emphasized in Washington radio-telephone interviews the administration's deep concern over a possible steel strike. Swirling Flood Menaces Dike In Rock Island

By The Associated Press

Muddy floodwater rolled through an industrial area of Rock Island, Ill., today as volunteers labored to keep the swirling Mississippi River from rushing into a residential section.

City officials feared a three-mile earthen dike would break, sending the water into a 300-home housing project of 1,200 residents.

The floodwaters, which have driven more than 60,000 persons from their homes in three states, were fed by heavy rains over the weekend.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the worst is still to come.

The flood crest of the Mississippi moving downstream from Dubuque, Iowa, will combine with the flow from tributaries to produce more floods by next weekend, the Weather Bureau said.

The floods will occur from Keokuk, Iowa, through Hannibal, Mo., the bureau said. "This will be a critical flood situation for the entire area and local officials and the public should take steps to prepare for the rises."

Four Cities In Danger

The Quad Cities area in Illinois and Iowa with a combined population of 250,000 was the prime danger spot. The area is composed of Moline, Rock Island and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa.

In Rock Island, workers labored around the clock to reinforce the earthen dam, the only protection for the housing complex. Most residents had been evacuated after a warning from Mayor Forrest Muhleman that water was seeping through the dike. More than 1,000 volunteers worked with Army engineers to reinforce the levee.

Another dike broke in Rock Island Sunday, covering the equivalent of a 54-block industrial area with six feet of water. The 400 residents had been evacuated.

The latest reading of the waters in Rock Island, a city of 51,000 in the northwest corner of Illinois near the Iowa border, was 21 feet. Flood stage is 15 feet. A crest of 22½ feet is expected Tuesday or Wednesday.

One-third of East Moline's 2,000 residents have been evacuated. More than 20 blocks of the city's Watertown area are under water.

An official said that 166 of 188 houses in an East Moline housing authority were inundated.

Volunteers reinforced an emergency dike to hold the flood waters from Moline's water plant. Officials feared the quarter-mile dike might break, knocking out the water supply for the city's 48,000 residents.

Mayor James Arndt of Moline urged residents to store enough water for a week.

In Bettendorf, Iowa, across the river from East Moline, officials said the town's only levee covering one side of the community would not hold. Many of the town's 11,500 persons worked on reinforcing the levee.

In Davenport, Iowa, workmen waded through waist-deep water to remove mechanisms from parking meters so they would not rust when the crest hits.

The river apparently leveled in Dubuque. The rain-soaked Dubuque dikes held as the river reached its apparent crest nearly 10 feet above flood stage.

"I am confident we have this thing licked," said Mayor Robert Horgan of Dubuque. "We are going to win."

Damage in Illinois was estimated by Gov. Otto Kerner at $30 million.

Pickets Support Viet Nam Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House was the scene of a different type of Viet Nam picketing Saturday.

Some 100 young people, most of them wearing buttons of the Young Americans for Freedom, paraded in support of the administration's policy in Viet Nam.

Dominican Regime Ousted By Rebels

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican armed forces were split today over who would head the government after a rebellion by young army officers and the resignation of the 19-month-old civilian junta.

Leaders of the rebellion said ousted President Juan D. Bosch would return from Puerto Rico, where he has been in exile since September 1963.

The air force and old guard military elements demanded that a military junta rule this small Caribbean republic which divides the island of Hispaniola with Haiti.

Confusion prevailed in the interim.

Air Force P51 Mustangs strafed the presidential palace Sunday and the 16th of August army camp — headquarters of the rebel officers — outside the city.

Donald Reid Cabral, chief of the ousted civilian junta, and Ramon Caceres Troncoso, the other junta member, apparently were being detained in the palace. They issued statements of resignation, saying they would return to private business life.

The Dominicans' pocket-sized navy was reported at anchor offshore.

Dr. Rafael Molina Urena, former president of the Chamber of Deputies under Bosch, was installed by the rebels as provisional president until Bosch's return.

In San Juan, Bosch said he expected to leave today for Santo Domingo and that he would fill out his term, which would have expired in February 1967.

Molina ordered Congress back into session. It had been dissolved when Bosch was overthrown. He also reinstated the constitution.

Since dictator Rafael Trujillo was assassinated in 1961, the Dominicans' government has been overturned eight times. Bosch took over Feb. 27, 1963.

Military chiefs who ousted Bosch accused him of allowing Communists and followers of Fidel Castro to infiltrate the government. They did not accuse Bosch of being a leftist.

Movie Veteran Louise Dresser Dies In Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Funeral services will be held Thursday for Louise Dresser, silent film costar of Will Rogers.

Miss Dresser, 82, died Saturday at the Motion Picture Country Hospital in nearby Woodland Hills where she underwent surgery March 13 for an intestinal obstruction.

Widowed in 1951 with the death of her second husband, Jack Gardner, she left no survivors.

Fire Kills Two At Fortune Lake

CRYSTAL FALLS (AP) — A fire swept through a shack on the shore of Fortune Lake near here Saturday and killed two men. They were Harold Holkup, 41, and Lauri Tamminen, 43, who was visiting Holkup. Police said the cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Pakistani Armed Forces Attack On Indian Border

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India alerted its armed forces today and recalled all personnel on leave as Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan declared that large Pakistani forces were attacking along India's western border.

Chavan told Parliament a brigade — about 5,000 men — of Pakistani infantry supported by tanks was attacking Biarbet, about six miles inside territory claimed by India in the disputed Rann of Kutch area.

He said Pakistan's forces attacked Biarbet Sunday night but were beaten off.

"This morning's news," said Chavan, "states that Pakistan is again attacking Biarbet with a brigade of infantry and a sizable force of armor."

The Indians charged that Pakistan had for the first time thrown tanks into the area and that three of them were destroyed.

Pakistan said the fighting resulted from an outbreak of firing by Indian troops.

"Pakistan had to take swift retaliatory action last night in the Chad Bet area of the Rann of Kutch following repeated firing on its positions by the Indian army," a government spokesman said. He said Indian guns were silenced, with heavy Indian casualties.

The United States was reported pressing for an immediate cease-fire and resumption of talks on the territorial dispute.

British India was partitioned into sovereign India and Pakistan in 1947, but the frontier along the Rann of Kutch was never marked. It is a barren salt waste, flooded during the monsoon season. Reports of oil deposits under the wasteland have given it new importance.

Gas Kills Four Aboard Yacht

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — An autopsy showed that "a very heavy concentration" of carbon monoxide gas killed four persons aboard the yacht "Lady D." Sarnia Coroner W. D. Logie said Sunday.

The deaths Saturday of John Dunn Jr., 40, Cass Flowers, 47, and his wife Sophie, 44, all of Detroit, and Joyce Brinkhoff, 23, of Littleton, Colorado, marred the opening period of the Great Lakes yachting season.

The yacht's captain, Richard Winters, 35, of Detroit, discovered the bodies when he tied the ship to the pier here. He was quoted by police as saying he was amazed when none of the four appeared to help him dock the boat. He said he went below deck and found all four dead.

Winters said the cruise from Detroit up the Saint Clair River to Sarnia was the first trip of the season for the 50-foot, $50,000 yacht. The Saint Clair River is a channel of Lake Huron.

Dunn, who owned an automobile haulaway company, and with Flowers, owned a cocktail lounge in the Detroit suburb of Hamtramck, was the owner of the boat.

Winters said he found Mr. and Mrs. Flowers in the lounge of the boat along with their dog. The dog was dead. Miss Brinkhoff was in a stateroom and Dunn apparently had been taking a shower, he added.

He told officers all four had been on deck about an hour and a half before the boat reached Sarnia.

Funds To Train Indians Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill which will pump $15 million a year into the Indian job-training program.

The vocational program was begun in 1958, and has been used by more than 13,000 men and women.

It is open to Indians 18 to 35 years of age who live on or near reservations. The government pays for up to two years of vocational training. It also provides transportation, supplies and equipment, subsistence, medical care, counseling and help in finding a job.

U.S. Will Join In Conference Of 9 Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has notified Britain and several other countries that it will "gladly participate" in a proposed nine-nation conference on Cambodia. Such a gathering could lead to informal talks on ending the Vietnamese war.

The decision to participate in a Cambodian conference, if one is called, was made last week by President Johnson. He already has decided that he would name Ambassador W. Averell Harriman as U.S. delegate to such a meeting.

Harriman Picked

The U.S. readiness to attend was announced Sunday night by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who said:

"It has been proposed that an international conference composed of the governments of the countries which took part in the Geneva conference of 1954 be called to consider the question of the neutrality and territorial integrity of Cambodia."

"After reviewing this proposal with the President last week and at his direction, we have informed a number of interested governments that if such a conference is called we will gladly participate."

"The President would appoint Ambassador Averell Harriman as our representative to the discussions."

The British government, which with the Soviet Union was cochairman of the 1954 Geneva conference on Southeast Asia, has been working with the Soviet Union and other countries for several weeks to see whether it would be possible to arrange a meeting on Cambodia.

Britain Sees Opportunity

The original proposal for the meeting came from Cambodian Prince Norodom Sihanouk as an evident move to secure the independence of his country which is a neighbor of South Viet Nam.

Britain's major interest in the proposed conference, however, obviously has been that it would bring together representatives of many governments directly or indirectly involved in the war in South Viet Nam and would thus afford an opportunity for Vietnamese peace talks.

The nine nations which could be included in the meeting are the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, France, Communist China, North Viet Nam, South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

Rusk did not refer to the Vietnamese conflict or to the possibility of peace talks in announcing U.S. willingness to attend the proposed Cambodian conference.

"Cambodia desires independence and neutrality," he said. "Here as elsewhere in Asia the United States wholeheartedly supports the right of each nation to shape its own course."

"To support this right for Cambodia is fully consistent with the purpose of the United States to support the right of every nation in Southeast Asia to lead a free and independent existence."

Red China Is Factor

U.S. officials said that in recent days there had been increasing interest on the part of a number of governments which would take part in the conference to get such a meeting organized. They also said there had been many inquiries during the weekend about the U.S. attitude. These two facts, they said, were chiefly responsible for determining the timing of the Rusk announcement.

They were uncertain, however, whether agreement was wide enough to assure that a conference would in fact be held. Much of the uncertainty centered on Red China's attitude.

The Soviet government and the North Vietnamese regime declared little more than a week ago that they favored the proposal for a meeting on Cambodia. Saturday, however, Sihanouk was reported in dispatches from Cambodia to have said it was not necessary to have the United States and South Viet Nam at the conference.

Boy Sniper, 16, Shoots 13, Then Kills Himself

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy, hidden by waving grass on a windy hillside, fired down with a high-powered rifle on passing cars on busy U.S. 101 Sunday.

Michael Andrew Clark killed two persons, injured 11, engaged officers in a rattling, 1½-hour gunfire exchange and then took his own life by shooting himself between the eyes.

Authorities said the sniper's parents, Forrest and Joyce Clark of Long Beach, 200 miles south of the battle scene, reported the boy had run away from home Saturday night in the family car.

Sunday afternoon, the couple identified their son's clothes, broken eyeglasses, a cigarette lighter emblazoned with a Playboy bunny emblem — and his body.

Officers quoted Mrs. Clark as saying: "I just can't understand it. I'd like to talk to those poor people who were shot at. But what can I say?"

Killed by bullets from the youth's 30-06 Swedish Mauser deer rifle, equipped with a telescopic sight, were Charles Christopher Hogan, 21, of San Luis Obispo, and Joel W. Kocab, 28, of Los Angeles.

Of the wounded, two were critically hurt—Bill Reid, 42, of Norwalk, shot in the neck and shoulder, and his son, Kevin Dean, 5, shot in the head. The child was in critical condition after brain surgery at Santa Barbara's Cottage Hospital, 160 miles south. Another son, Kim Allen, 3, also was shot in the head but not seriously hurt. Two daughters, Kelly Ann, 8, and Susan, 8 months, escaped injury.

Sawmill Skills Taught By Tech

A man often receives the major part of his education after his formal schooling has ceased. This is especially true in forestry and allied fields, Dr. Eric Bourdo, Alberta, director of Ford Forestry Center of Michigan Tech told members of the Michigan-Wisconsin Section of the Society of American Foresters at Northern Michigan University, Marquette Saturday.

Bourdo outlined the progress being made in training men for various forest and wood industry jobs through federal and state retraining programs.

He said that job training in the lumber industry, sawmilling and forestry has long been employed by the U.S. Forest Service.

Added impetus has been given the program during the last several years by the Area Re-development Administration's retraining centers, the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962, and the Economic Opportunity Act.

Candidates for the various training programs are selected by offices of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Michigan Tech became interested in vocational training of forest industry workers after a survey by the MESCC revealed the shortage of trained men in this field.

The study showed, Bourdo said, that the average age of lumber graders was 65 years and sawyers, 62 years. There was also a shortage of skilled sawmill men, saw filers and other workers in this line.

Through the efforts of federal and state agencies already involved, MTU, the Northern Hardwood & Plywood Manufacturers' Association and the Timber Producers' Association, Dr. Bourdo evolved a vocational training program at Alberta which has been geared to the needs of forestry, conservation and industry.

The enrollment at Albert is made up of men out of work, some needing re-training, and others who are being trained for their first jobs.

"The training program here is no welfare haven," Bourdo pointed out. "Exams are stiff and enrollees are under constant evaluation."

Men come from Michigan and Wisconsin, and will soon be attending from Minnesota, he said.

Many who come to the center are discouraged, feeling that they have little to offer in the labor market.

After attending the Alberta center, men earn from $1.50 to $3.37 per hour in lumber inspection and $1.35 to $2.47 per hour as sawyers. Sub-professional foresters trained here get an annual salary of from $3,640 to $4,660, Bourdo noted.

Efforts have been made to start training programs for woodworkers, but so little interest has been shown by those in that line of work, that the program was never put into operation, he said.

WORLD'S BIGGEST?—A 45-ton bull named Albert is the pride of Audubon, Iowa, dubbed the "T-Bone Center" and "The Capital of the Beef World." Constructed of steel and concrete, Albert stands 28 feet tall and is 33 feet long. Audubon says it's the largest bull in the world.

Concert Drive Opening May 3

Approximately 75 workers will convene at the Dells Supper Club Monday night, May 3, for a dinner meeting which will inaugurate the drive for members of the Delta County Community Concert Association. Tiny Stacy, New York representative for Community Concerts will address the workers.

Having completed the past season with four outstanding concerts and the largest membership of its history, the board of the Concert Association has scheduled the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra as the headline attraction for the 1965-66 season. Under the direction of Izler Solomon, the symphony will be the first major American orchestra ever to appear locally.

The second "hold attraction" which will appear will be the popular "Revelers" Male Quartet. One other concert is guaranteed, and, hopefully, two, dependent upon the county community's response to the one-week campaign which will end May 8.

Mrs. Robert Appel and Mrs. George Cavadeas are co-chairmen of the drive and campaign headquarters again will be at the Chamber of Commerce where a special telephone will be installed for the period.

Delta County Community Concert Association President Conrad D. Beck said: "More than ever before good music has become a vital factor in the artistic growth and self-teem of our country. Concerts by world famous artists and musical attractions add prestige and distinction to the cultural and social life of our area. Their success depends upon the support of adults and students who join a movement for the purpose of establishing a permanent concert series."

Anyone wishing to work on next week's concentrated drive and to attend the kick-off dinner, of which Mrs. Donald Fitch and Mrs. Raymond Hockstad are co-chairmen, may contact Mrs. Appel at ST 6-2680, or Mrs. Cavadeas at ST 6-1040.

China is the most populous nation in the world today, with India following as the world's second largest nation.

Job Readiness Study Starts

Lloyd Bruce, principal of the Bark River-Harris High School, chaired the first meeting of the members of the Occupational Survey Advisory Committee of the Bark River-Harris School District held recently at the high school. This was the first step of a study to be made in the next few months.

Bruce has been appointed by Supt. Richard Hendra to form the committee to make a local survey in a tri-county study of vocational-educational needs of students who complete high school and go to work immediately without being equipped with sufficient saleable skills to find a worthwhile job.

"A special consideration in our area," said Bruce, "is that the lack of industry prohibits most of our young people from finding work locally, even if he has a saleable skill. Therefore," he concluded, "the basic question must be amended to add — and all industry where our youth might go to obtain employment."

This survey is being made under the sponsorship of the Bay de Noc Community College, Escanaba, and this vocational-technical education study proposal is being submitted for Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties.

Current unemployment rates are 8.5 per cent in Delta County, 6.8 per cent in Menominee County and 12.1 per cent in Schoolcraft County.

Members of the survey committee serving with Bruce are William Fodor, Chester Good, Carl Ahlin, Philip Norman, Algot Erickson and Henry W. Boyle.

John Ruleau, 64, of Cedar River, was reported in "critical" condition today at St. Francis Hospital from injuries received in a two-car traffic accident Saturday on U.S. 2 and 41 between Escanaba and Gladstone.

Ruleau was thrown from his pickup truck when it was struck by a car driven by Margo Ann Froelich, Rte. 1, Escanaba.

State Police said Ruleau pulled into the eastbound lane of the divided highway from Co. Rd. C-3 near the Ken-Mar drive-in theater and the left front of his truck collided with the right front of Miss Froelich's car.

Miss Froelich was treated for minor injuries by a Gladstone physician. She told police that without the seat belt she was wearing she would probably have been more severely hurt.

What's A Book

This is National Library Week.

To mark it the libraries remind us that Americans borrow 500 million books a year and that there are 175 million of them stashed away in 60,000 libraries around this Land of the Free and other such drear information.

Let Library Week remind us instead of the great change in reading in America. As much as any other thing it indicates the great general change that has overtaken us.

Less than two generations ago our public libraries were mausoleums presided over by shirtwaisted female wardens who seemed not so much concerned about increasing knowledge as they were about protecting the books. If you talked out loud and got a biff from the librarian that caused a nosebleed you had better not bleed on the books or you'd have had your library card snatched away. That would have banished you from this temple of silence, where you could read books without colored pictures, and look at stereoscope pictures through a viewer that gave third dimension quality.

The libraries of that day were heavy on the "classics"—not in the sense that that term denotes the culture of Greece and Rome—but as it connotes the old and established. There wasn't much new writing, except for the latest Penrod book by Booth Tarkington and Tom Swift's latest venture with his malted milk machine.

World War I accelerated a change toward more current writing in the libraries. Guy Empey's "Over the Top" told about the cooties and Boche of World War I as a contemporary wonder and dread. America was never as provincial again after World War I, having fought around the world.

There was a great variance in the reading habits and influences on the men from the Upper Peninsula who went to World War I and those who came home from World War II. Life had changed enormously. There were a lot more readers, hence a lot more books. The paperback was in, breaking the old image of a book as something in hard covers that you borrowed for two weeks from a public library.

There was more leisure, so there was more "escape" reading, fluffy romances and bang-bang westerns and crime thrillers. There was a heck of a lot more to know so there was a whole new literature of science and a whole new dependence upon it for knowledge to cope with problems that had once seemed simple, but which had, with more knowledge, become complex.

The schools, which had once sent children to the public library for books outside the narrow limits of their textbooks, found that they had to have libraries of their own. Even the grade schools got them. School design, which had so long neglected them, now started out like a design for a good saloon. First you built the cool room and then the other facilities. First you built the school library and then the classrooms.

Individual libraries have found that they can't meet the expanding demands for their services and they now are federating so that they can share each others' resources. This process is well along in the Upper Peninsula.

The Michigan State Library has given great aid to our public and school libraries in the Upper Peninsula. It has augmented their book collections with loans from its stacks and it has sent its consultants around to preach the gospel of book learning. The work has been done so well with their aid and that of our own able librarians and progressive library boards that there is a wholesome new regard and respect for libraries as institutions that serve reading needs of all the people for all their lives.

The Doctor Says:

English Doctors Study Rh

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

In response to a column on Rh factor, I have been showered with requests for more information. The work on the so-called blocking antibodies, which I mentioned, is being done by Drs. R. Finn and C. A. Clarke in Liverpool, England. Although it shows promise, it is still experimental. These observers have found evidence that an Rh-negative woman is sensitized to the Rh. positive blood of the baby she is carrying at the time of delivery rather than earlier in the course of pregnancy.

This would account for the fact that it is rare for first-born infants to be affected by the Rh incompatibility of his parents. When the baby is affected there is usually a history of a previous miscarriage. The blocking antibodies are given immediately after the birth of the first-born. To give them during pregnancy would damage the unborn child.

Since other means of desensitizing the mother have not been found, treatment of the affected infant immediately after he is born still offers the best chance of saving his life.

One mother wants to know what kind of disease Rh incompatibility causes. Briefly, it is a destruction of the red blood corpuscles of the newborn.

Q—Two of my children have malabsorption syndrome. Will they outgrow it and, if so, at what age?

A—Malabsorption syndrome is a term that includes celiac disease and similar conditions. Children who have this disease have a persistent diarrhea which keeps them from gaining weight. On a carefully controlled gluten-free diet most of them will outgrow it by the age of 9 or 10. In some, however, the disease may persist into the late teens.

Courts Overloaded Letters To The Press

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Two dozen vacancies on the federal bench are contributing heavily to the burdens of the nation's overloaded judicial system.

Necessary senatorial recommendations are extremely slow in coming in a substantial number of cases. But the appointment of judges is being further delayed because President Johnson injects himself more personally into the selection process than did John F. Kennedy and other predecessors.

Says an official: "The President gets himself more deeply involved at an earlier stage than others have done."

"There are some places where he shouldn't be stepping in at all. He should only move in when he has to, when there is an impasse or a controversy."

Right now there are 16 judgeships vacancies at the federal district court level, not counting one in Puerto Rico. Five important spots are open in the U. S. Court of Appeals, and two on the U. S. Court of Customs based in New York.

The backlog of unfilled judgeships could get suddenly worse a few months hence. Chances are high for passage of South Carolina Sen. Olin D. Johnston's bill creating 41 additional federal judgeships to ease the judiciary's burgeoning caseload.

This is a follow-up, of course of recommendations by the Judicial Conference of the United States, a body led by Chief Justice Earl Warren and meeting semiannually to study the court system. This is the first proposed expansion of the judgeship roster since 73 new federal posts were created under President Kennedy in 1961.

Where Lyndon Johnson faces the biggest gun is in the South's Fifth Circuit embracing Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Two vacancies exist there on the normally nine-man appeals court panel. One, usually filled by a Texan, may not prove too troublesome. The other, going usually to a Mississippian, is the real stickler.

The dilemma is obvious. On the one hand the President must look to Mississippi's staunchly segregationist senators, Eastland and Stennis, for recommendations. On the other he must listen to Negro and other civil rights advocates who argue that the federal bench in the South already has too many segregationist judges.

Consequently the "Mississippi vacancy" could continue a long time. No resolution of the problem is anywhere in sight. Meantime, the Fifth Circuit's incredible workload goes on mounting precipitously. The proposed court enlargement would include four new but temporary appeals court judgeships for the overburdened Fifth. Yet the necessity of filling these, if they are created, will only heighten the President's southern dilemma.

Contrary to much opinion, it is not civil rights cases which account for the rising caseload in this southern tier of states. Officials say it is just the expected result of a populous region exhibiting tremendous new growth.

The plan for four temporary judgeships (likely to be made permanent later) in the Fifth Circuit is a substitute for another more controversial proposal—splitting the Fifth into two separate circuits. This is opposed by the federal judiciary's administrative arm and the Department of Justice.

He spoke to a packed ballroom at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel to open the 1965 Archdiocesan Development Fund Campaign (ADF) which will be conducted May 2-17. It brought in $2 million.

Archbishop Dearden said "new stirrings have come into the church and its life" since and because of the Vatican Council.

"A renewal has taken place in the liturgy in our parishes and a new spirit has quickened the energies and focused the efforts of our people," he said.

He said that Catholics never had considered living a Christian life in total isolation from others because of the "family ties with others" provided by Christian baptism, but that the new sense of community goes beyond this.

Msgr. Albert A. Matyn was even more direct in noting a tendency among Catholics to veer away from their "ingrained parochialism" in which he said they tended to "identify solely with the parish in which they resided and with the people who lived within its boundaries."

"We are beginning to broaden our horizons and to become Catholic in the real and original sense of the word," he said.

Newspaper want ads are a big sell! Eight hundred million was spent on classified ads last year more than for all television spot announcements or radio advertising.

Ann Landers

Husband Spanks His Lovely Wife

Dear Ann Landers: I'm so shocked I'm not sure I can express myself properly. A lovely woman I've known for years (we are both in our middle 30's) confessed that her husband spanks her when she displeases him. She asked if my husband ever spanked me. When I told her I would never tolerate such an indignity she looked at me as if I was crazy.

Then she went on to defend her husband by saying he never spanked her unless she deserved it. "And," she added, "I usually feel a lot better after it is over."

I always thought only low class slum dwellers hit their wives. This woman is well-to-do and prominent. Is something wrong with him — or with her?

— STILL SHAKING

Dear Still: All kinds of men hit their wives and they live in mansions, on suburban estates — and in the low rent districts. There is indeed something wrong with him, AND with her, too.

A woman who tolerates a spanking is as sick as the man who gives her one. It's both strange and interesting how these physical kinks seem to find each other. My guess is that they rehearse a little before marriage.

Dear Ann Landers: I spent the weekend with a relative in Montana. Opal was always lackadaisical and not what you'd call the world's best housekeeper. I didn't go there to inspect her house, however, and this is not what I'm writing about.

One afternoon Opal prepared a meat loaf. She called the dog in from outside and let him lick the bowl clean. I almost got sick. When Opal put the bowl in the dishwasher with the family's dishes I felt this was too much. I told her I thought it was a very unhealthy thing to do because dogs that run loose get into garbage cans and heaven knows what all.

She said I was out of my head, that scalding water and soap will kill almost any germ. She seemed so positive that I'm eager to hear your answer. — SAL

Dear Sal: My answer wouldn't mean much, so I checked with an authority and got HIS answer.

A Chicago doctor of veterinary medicine said your Montana relative is correct — that scalding water and soap will kill almost any germ. He said further that it's O. K. to let the dog lick the cooking bowl

Viet Nam Men Get Tax Break

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has exempted non-commissioned military personnel from federal income taxes while serving in the Viet Nam area and gave officers serving there an exemption of $200 a month.

Johnson, by executive order, made the tax relief retroactive to last Jan. 1.

It applies to all American military personnel serving in Viet Nam and adjacent waters, which extend roughly 100 miles from the entire coast of North Viet Nam.

The exemption applies to the time actually served in the Viet Nam area.

For example, a non-commissioned officer who served there for six months this year could exempt only one-half of his compensation from federal taxes.

For purposes of exemption, warrant officers, are regarded as non-commissioned personnel. They rank just under commissioned officers.

Game Men Are Counting Calls

LANSING — It's spring mating time again in Michigan's wildlife world and Conservation Department field men have their work cut out for them during the next few weeks in sizing up this year's breeding population of game birds.

Starting at dusk on clear evenings, these men are listening for singing woodcock along more than 70 established census routes throughout the state.

In the Upper Peninsula, "hearing" counts are also being made on these birds along 50 new, random routes. This extra survey, carried out mostly by game biologists and conservation officers, is a follow-up to a special study completed in Lower Michigan last year.

Like previous field checks below the Straits, it is being tested out to provide broader and better coverage in measuring woodcock numbers from year to year throughout the continent.

Under both the regular and special woodcock surveys, birds are tallied as they are heard making their "peenting" calls on the ground and high-pitched twittering sounds which punctuate their acrobatic sky dances.

Under other census work, Department men are rising early and staking themselves out at dancing grounds of sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens in Northern Michigan to get an up-to-date reading on the populations of these birds.

Unfolding before them in the birds' courtship areas is a colorful pageant with male sharp-tails and prairie chickens strutting their stuff and cackling and cooing before onlooking hens.

Dropped from the Department's annual survey schedule this year are ruffed grouse drumming counts formerly recorded along some 40 regular census runs in the Upper and Northern Lower Peninsulas. Taking their place later in the spring will be mail carrier checks which have proved to be reliable for inventorying grouse numbers.

During the first two weeks of May, Department workers will be hitting the road before sunrise to make pheasant crowing counts along 37 established routes in Southern Michigan.

The same kind of pheasant survey will be conducted during the last half of May along eight routes in the southernmost part of the Northern Lower Peninsula and along two routes in the Upper Peninsula's Delta and Menominee counties.

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Mrs. Joe Martin, who was raised near Garnet and Newberry, writes from Shepherd, Mich., about the Maple Syrup Festival held there last Saturday.

"This festival is a community project each year and we all work hard helping tapping, gathering and boiling maple sap for syrup and candy. It is fun, but lots of hard work."

"The money is going to be used to build a swimming pool in Shepherd, which is about in the center of Lower Michigan."

"We have people come from out of the state for this big day and to see how we make maple syrup at the Shepherd Sugarbush Corp. building."

"Each year we do our best to have better entertainment and faster service of food and everyone seems to have a very good time. We even had a maple syrup queen."

Harpo Marks in his biography, "Harpo Speaks!" relates "Mr. Green's Reception went over big. The only trouble we had with it was in Kalamazoo, where we were hired to play a whole week. The Kalamazoo trouble occurred at my entrance. I came on as Patsy, carrying a trash can."

"Mr. Green (who has miraculously lost his German accent somewhere during the intermission): And who might you be, my good fellow?"

"Patsy: Why, Patsy Brannigan, the garbage man."

"Mr. Green: Sorry, we don't need any."

"In Kalamazoo, like every place else, this got a laugh. But because of it we got fired off the bill. The owner of the theater came back and uttered those fearful words of doom: 'You're shut.'"

"It was hardly our fault. We didn't know the current scandal in Kalamazoo—which was that the theater owner's wife had just run off to Escanaba with the city garbage collector."

Tagged Michigan Duck Bagged In West Indies

LANSING (AP) — One Michigan duck really veered off course to set a believed new mileage distance, reports the State Conservation Department.

The bird, a blue-winged teal, was tagged at the Conservation Department experiment station near East Lansing last August. It was shot down the past winter in the Dominican Republic — a flight of some 1,700 miles.

Michigan's banded birds previously have been recovered in Cuba, but this is the first one to fly as far as the Dominican Republic, farther south and east.

Union Rejects Harnischfeger Final Proposal

Harnischfeger Corp. announced today that it had been advised that its final proposal for a labor contract with Local 632 of the United Auto Workers had been rejected at Sunday's membership meeting of the local held at the Escanaba Area Junior High School.

Neither company nor union would comment upon immediate effect of the failure to agree, but Wednesday of this week appeared to be decision day.

"The company feels it is very regrettable that the union has elected to take this position," said Raymond O. Fish, plant manager, in a statement. "The company made a substantial three year proposal covering wages, vacations, pensions, holidays and insurance."

"The company also, as a part of its proposal, requested improvements in the job evaluation program, in the application of incentive, and for a two-week vacation plant shutdown.

"The total package offered amounts to 48 cents per hour over a three year period and is estimated to cost about $850,000 in this period. The company's offer is made in the face of a very competitive market. The present Escanaba average rate for each employee, $3.22. The present straight time hourly rate without overtime is $2.68 per hour.

"It appears that the main areas of disagreement causing rejection were two items: One was the company's request for a two-week vacation shutdown starting in 1966 in any two-week period in July or August; the other area is a fundamental one covering the union's objection to the company's efforts to further improve its product manufacturing techniques resulting in improved product cost."

The union's contract with Harnischfeger Corp. expired April 15. Negotiations for a new one have been underway for months, with the company proposing a three year contract and the union countering with a two year proposal.

State and federal mediation has been asked. Lloyd Carlson, president of Harnischfeger Local UAW, said the union had no comment on its position. Ivan Brown of Iron Mountain, international representative of the UAW, was out of the city.

Vandals Damage 4 Vehicles In City

Three cars and a general delivery truck were damaged by vandals in Escanaba late Saturday or early Sunday morning, Escanaba police reported today.

Officers said two cars and the truck had windows broken, apparently with a hammer or tire iron, and that beer was splashed from a thrown bottle over the interior of a car owned by Donald Viaw, Rte. 1, Gladstone, while it was parked at Marco's Restaurant.

Cars with broken windows were owned by Arni Juntunen, 412 S. 16th St., and Joseph Wery, 917 S. 16th St. The delivery truck was parked at the Ed Rubel residence, 710 4th Ave., S.

Police are investigating.

Romney's Party Flies Into Milan On Trade Mission

MILAN (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan flew into this north Italian city from Germany this morning with a Michigan state trade mission.

Romney's party, including leading businessmen from Michigan, is touring Europe to promote trade between the American state and the continent.

Romney, in a speech at Hannover Sunday, called for a joint effort by Europeans and the United States to aid developing nations.

AIRMAN 1/c Robert G. Moreau, son of Mrs. Rose A. Moreau of 306 S. 9th St., has arrived for duty at Thule Airforce Base, Greenland. The airman, a graduate of Holy Name High School, attended St. Norbert College, Green Bay.

Forum On Gas 8:30 Tonight

The United Labor Committee will sponsor a public forum at 8:30 tonight in the council chambers of Escanaba City Hall to review the proposal that the City sell its gas utility to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. for $725,000.

The alternative would be that the City would retain its gas utility and convert it to the distribution of natural gas supplied from the Michigan Consolidated pipeline.

City Council has recommended that the citizens approve the sale in a special election June 1. The United Labor Committee has announced its opposition to the sale on the basis of the same Black & Veatch engineering study which caused the city's councilmen and a Gas Advisory Committee which they created to study the situation to recommend sale.

Mrs. Norman L. Lindquist, president of the Escanaba League of Women Voters will be moderator. The Labor Committee will be represented by its Chairman, Carl Anderson, of the Harnischfeger Local of the United Auto Workers, and its secretary, Cecil Chase of the Teamsters.

City Council will be represented by councilman and former mayor Harold Vanlerberghe and the Gas Advisory Committee by John Sauve of the Paper Makers Union.

City Manager George Harvey asked L. M. Chaney, who wrote the Black & Veatch report on the gas utility to attend the forum as a resource person. The forum will be broadcast by WDBC.

All Time Mark In April Ore Haul Is Sighted

Escanaba's harbor was to be down to one boat waiting to load ore tonight, but well on its way toward a possible all-time record for a century in April loading of iron ore.

And this, said Lee McMillan, Chicago & North Western Railway dock agent here, would be despite some of the worst April weather conditions in the history of the ore movement on Lake Michigan.

Since navigation was opened April 6 there have been 40 boats loaded at the C&NW dock here and dock ore receipts have been 674,308 tons of ore compared with 496,483 to April 26 in 1964.

"It is going to be a very good April," said McMillan. "I expect it to be a record."

"If we had only had 5 or 6 more days of good weather last fall we would have made a dock record. We received 6,565,000 tons."

"If there is a steel strike next weekend we may go on for a few more days, but then we'll be shut down. If there's no steel strike we expect the pressure to drop down to normal."

The dock has been under heavy pressures to move ore in large volume to replenish furnace stockpiles on the lower lakes because Lake Superior ore sources became available later than usual this year because of ice conditions which also troubled the first several weeks of ore shipping in the Port of Escanaba.

The carrier Carnahan and P. D. Block were loading this morning and were to clear today. The carriers Joseph Block, Henry Ford and Hobson were waiting their turns and were to start loading this afternoon and the E. J. Block was due and the lone prospect for anchorage in Little Bay de Noc, where as many as 8 carriers were waiting last week.

Church Planning To Be Reviewed

All members of the parish 21 years old and over are asked to attend and vote. Following the congregational meeting Supt. Balfour will conduct a quarterly conference.

There Is No Place Like New Houston Astrodome

White Paint Job May Not Be Final Answer

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
There is nothing like a dome
Nothing in the world.
There is no ball park called home
That has quirks like a dome.
—Houston Astros, 1965

That refrain may become quite popular in Houston, where the Astros have played their first day game under painted panes — and found the tinted skylights on the $31-million stadium may not have fully solved a glaring problem.

With the 5,496 panes in the roof of the Astrodome painted white in an attempt to keep out the glare of the sun, the Astros defeated Pittsburgh 5-4 in 11 innings Sunday, completing the first test of the new system without any of 16 fly balls being dropped.

And it seemed like the problem had been solved. Paul Richards, general manager of the Astros, thought so. But there were dissenters.

"It is a lot better but there are still some problems," said Houston center fielder Jim Wynn. "I lost one ball but managed to find it."

"When the sun is really shining brightly I don't believe you'll be able to see the ball," said right fielder Roberto Clemente of the Pirates, who pointed out that the day was slightly overcast.

In baseball, meanwhile, Philadelphia defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-4, San Francisco shut out New York 5-0 before the Mets took the nightcap 4-3 in

Spartans Split With Wisconsin

Michigan, champion of the Big Ten in football, basketball and other sports, is now a top contender for the conference baseball title.

The Wolverines collected a pair of one-run come-from-behind victories over Northwestern in a weekend doubleheader for an early-season perfect 3-0 record.

Michigan State split with Wisconsin as the Spartans secured their second victory and suffered their first loss of the conference season.

Two other college twin bills were played.

Central Michigan swept Hillsdale, 8-1 and 2-0, and Albion avenged a 2-0 first-game shutout with an 8-0 second-game drubbing of Olivet.

Michigan's 4-3 and 2-1 triumphs over Northwestern followed an 8-5 victory over Wisconsin Friday.

Catcher Ted Sizemore scored the winning run in each doubleheader game. Chand Simonds contributed a homer to Michigan's first-game effort and Carl Cmejrek's triple pushed Sizemore across to decide the second contest.

Spartan John Krasnan held the Badgers to three hits in the seven-inning second game, which MSU won 5-1 after dropping the opener 5-4. Krasnan also contributed a hit of his own during a game-winning two-run rally in the third.

A pair of one hitters highlighted the action as Albion and Olivet traded MIAA shutouts. Olivet's Ron Speaker and Albion's Al Kahl both turned in near-hitless efforts in the two seven-inning games.

The results left Olivet 5-1 in the conference and Albion 2-1. Central Michigan's Doug Vandervall allowed one hit and struck out nine in Central's second game against Hillsdale. Vandervall also socked a homer for CMU.

In the runaway first game, Gary Taylor held Hillsdale to seven hits while his teammates collected 12.

The non-league victories brought Central's season record to 11-3 and Hillsdale's to 3-5.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 15-foot effort by Michigan's George Canamore was good for a third place in the pole vault Saturday in the Penn Relays. John Uelses of LaSalle won at 15-6. The shuttle hurdle relay team from Western Michigan placed third with a 59.7 clocking.

LANSING (AP)—There were no changes in the standings of the Women's State Bowling Tournament at DeSantes Lanes here this weekend.

Wolverines Take Lead In Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan's Wolverines grabbed the lead in the Big Ten baseball race following the first weekend of competition.

The Wolverines knocked off Wisconsin 8-5 Friday and then swept a doubleheader from Northwestern Saturday, 4-3 and 2-1, to remain the only undefeated team in conference competition.

Defending champion Minnesota, Illinois, Ohio State and Michigan State all split doubleheaders Saturday after winning Friday to tie for second place, one game behind the Wolverines.

Purdue and Iowa, both defeated Friday were rained out of their doubleheader at Iowa City.

Minnesota came from behind in the second game for a 5-2 triumph after losing the first game to Illinois 10-5. The Illini are now far ahead of their 1964 pace when they finished last with a 1-14 mark.

Ohio State defeated Indiana 6-5 but the Hoosiers came back to win the nightcap, 1-0, in 10 innings on Bernie Krueger's run-scoring single with two out. Wisconsin defeated Michigan State 5-4 but dropped the second game 5-1 on the pitching and hitting of John Krasnan. Krasnan hurled a three-hitter and collected one of his two hits in a two-run, third inning rally.

Michigan will go on the road this weekend and might have difficulty remaining undefeated. The Wolverines are at Purdue Friday and at Illinois in a Saturday doubleheader.

Other games Friday find Indiana at Wisconsin, Michigan State at Illinois, Minnesota at Iowa and Ohio State at Northwestern. Other doubleheaders Saturday have Indiana at Northwestern, Michigan State at Purdue, Minnesota at Iowa and Ohio State at Wisconsin.

Golfing Rookie Is Texas Champ

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Young Frank Beard was just getting back in the swing of his golf game about this time last year after a serious attack of encephalitis knocked him off the PGA tour for six weeks.

"I started hitting the ball pretty good right away," the soft-spoken 25-year-old said of the first few rounds after his recovery.

And Sunday, Beard struck the champion's route for the second time in his pro career by taking a three-stroke victory in the $50,- 000 Texas Open. He won $7,500. Beard, raised in Dallas, but now of Louisville, Ky., proved himself a calm, steady pressure player by mastering the par 35-35-70 Oak Hills Country Club course with a 35-38-68.

He had challengers to the title all the way, including Gardner Dickinson Jr., who finished second with a 273 to pick up $4,000. Beard's card was 70-67-65-68—270.

Beard started two strokes behind Jacky Cupit, the third-round leader, and found himself in trouble early in the round by three putts for a bogey on the third hole.

From then on he was on his way to victory. Cupit finished with a five-over-par 75, for a 275 and a tie for fourth.

Bert Weaver, the tour's 10th-leading money winner before the tournament, made the most determined bid, but double bogied the last two holes to finish with a 73 and 276.

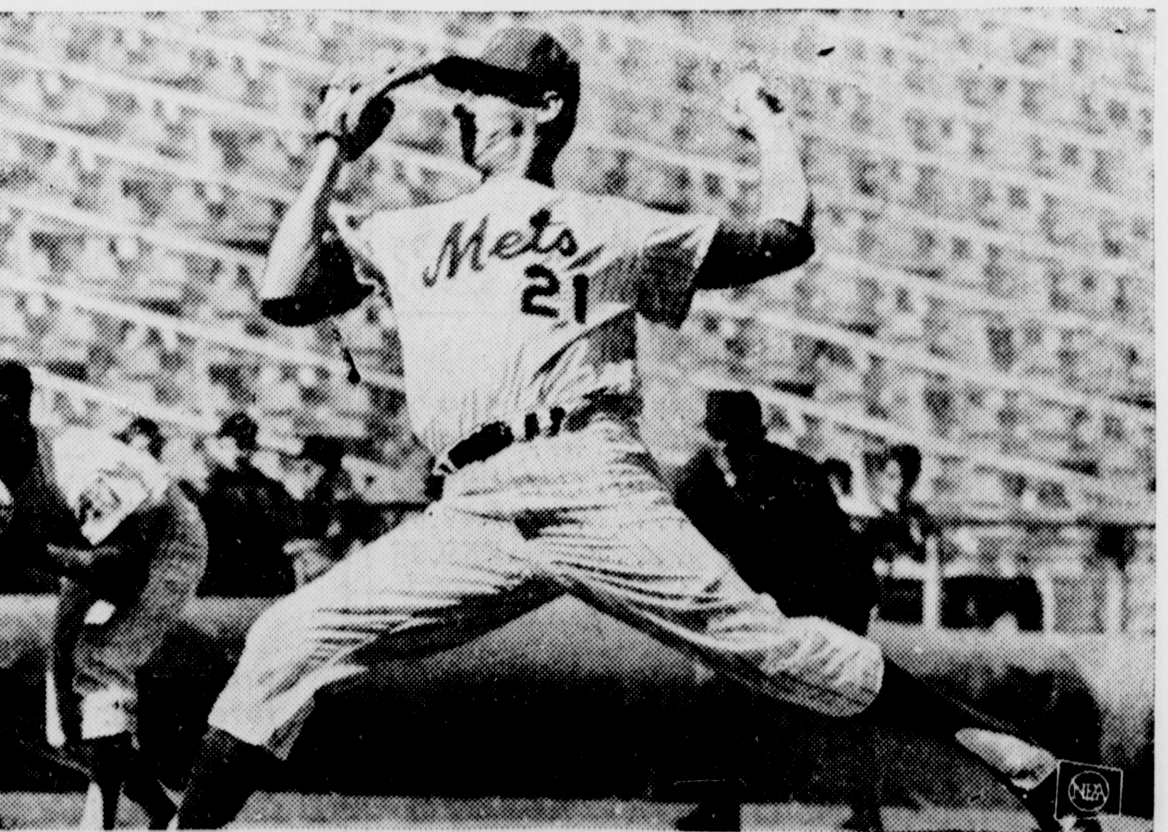

Tommy Aaron, second-round leader, managed a 70 to go with earlier rounds of 66, 66 and 72 for a 274 that left him in a tie for third with Bob Verwey and Steve Oppermann. Each got $2,933.

Beard, whose only other PGA victory was the Frank Sinatra Open in 1963, is not qualified for the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas, Nev., this week.

Stanley Cup Series Tied As Black Hawks Win, 5-1

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Hull hit a sinker, Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge missed it and that was the hockey game.

The Chicago Black Hawk star took aim 26 seconds after the third period of a 1-1 hockey game began. He slapped a 55-footer that dipped under Hodge's glove to put the Hawks in front.

The Hawks steamed three more goals past Hodge, two of them in the last 63 seconds of play, to beat the stunned Montreal Canadiens 5-1 and even the Stanley Cup best-of-7 series at two games each.

Until the third period, the game was almost a replay of Thursday's bitter match in Chicago, won by the Hawks, 3-1.

But one difference was the number of penalties—24 were whistled by referee Vern Buefy, 15 of them against the Canadiens.

Buefy's whistle tooting left Montreal Coach Toe Blake livid with rage. Blake charged after Buefy seconds after the game ended and pushed menacingly up to the referee. The team trainers and a player separated them without incident but Blake wasn't finished.

Still enraged, he started after two taunting fans near the stair leading to the dressing room. Again his two trainers held him off.

In front of the dressing room door, he told a group of newsmen:

"I want to see how much guts you guys got.

"Go ahead—write the game the way you saw it—I'll buy a paper to see it."

Only one Hawk goal, a close in chop shot by Red Hay in the third period, came on a power play.

The Hawks opened scoring at 2:57 when rookie Fred Stanfield, who had been pulled out of Thursday's game for what Hawk Coach Bill Reay said was a lack of desire, fired from a faceoff to the side of the cage. Goalie Hodge had no chance to make a save on the shot.

But surprise was no problem on Hull's goal in the third period, his first of the final series.

The shot was not one of Hull's zinging slap shots but almost a floater. The puck bobbed and weaved in front of the cage and dropped under Hodge's glove.

"I hit the puck while it was still bobbing around," a happy Hull said after the game. "I guess I put a little topspin on it."

"It was something like a baseball pitcher throwing a sinker," Coach Reay said.

The shot kicked opened the floodgates.

At 15:20, Hay picked up his goal after Stanfield fed him a pass directly off a faceoff near the goal.

Moments later Hull, cruising around in his own zone, picked up the puck on left wing, swung around to the right side of the rink and turned on the speed.

He outraced two Canadian defensemen to the net, gave Hodge a quick fake and dumped in his second goal of the night.

Rookie Doug Jarrett closed out the scoring against the spirited Canadiens on a breakaway with three seconds left in the game.

The Montreal score came on a power play. J.C. Tremblay faked a shot from left wing and flicked the puck to Dick Duff, stationed on the side of the crease. Chicago goalie Glenn Hall moved to block the shot, and Duff slid the puck across the net to Jean Beliveau, who scored easily.

Hall, who made 25 saves, kept the Hawks in the game for the remainder of the period.

"This was the big one," said Hawks' owner Jim Norris. "The one that can do it for us."

Reay had praise for his veteran netminder. "Glenn saved us in the second period," he said, referring to point-blank saves on Beliveau and Yvan Cournoyer.

He was also pleased that Hull was able to break loose to score his two goals, the first of the final series, after his record tying eight in Chicago's semifinal series against Detroit.

"It was nice to see Bobby get a couple, and I just hope our momentum continues."

Weather Spoils Tiger Schedule

DETROIT (AP)—Just before the start of the season, Detroit Tigers interim manager Bob Swift was complaining that his pitchers would not get enough work because of the number of off days in the early part of the season.

The schedule maker had given the Tigers five days off in the first 20 days of the campaign.

With five starters, Swift figured there just would be too many days off between assignments and, if the starters hurl a couple of complete games, the relief pitchers will lack work.

The weatherman stepped into the picture for the second time in 11 days and forced postponement of Sunday's scheduled finale against the Minnesota Twins because of rain.

Tiger officials stated simply that the weather forecast "was not good." The game was rescheduled as part of a twilight doubleheader Friday, June 11.

While The Detroit starters have turned in only one complete game, most of them have lasted long enough to give the relief corps only limited action.

In fact, the bullpen has worked only 17 1-3 of the team's first 84 innings.

But Swift's tune will change in the month of May, when the Tigers have only three off days. Two of them come in the first full week when they wind up the current home stay.

From May 7 to 16, they will play 12 games in nine days in three different cities. After a day off, they will play 16 more games on 14 consecutive dates.

It is also interesting to note that the Tigers must trim three players from their roster by midnight, May 11—while they are in the midst of their first string of games.

Swift has been thinking of cutting one pitcher but may have to look elsewhere if the hurlers suddenly become overworked.

Former pitcher Al Hollingsworth scouts for the Houston Astros.

Kentucky Derby Choice Awaits Tuesday's Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Preparations for the 91st running of the Kentucky Derby moved into the nerve-wracking final stages today with most of the experts awaiting Bold Lad's showing in the Derby Trial before selecting the probable winner of America's most colorful horse race.

Miss McIntire Defeats Roth

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—

Four North and South Women's Amateur Golf Championships in nine years. That's the record of Barbara McIntire, two-time winner of the national title, who has become the third most frequent winner of the 63-year-old classic.

Her 1-up victory over Nancy Roth in Saturday's 18-hole final left the dimpled 30-year-old from Colorado Springs, Colo., within striking distance of two records that seemingly were untouchable.

Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page won seven North and South titles in 11 years, starting in 1935. Glenna Collett took six, from 1922 through 1939.

Barbara, who had been 11 over par in winning four earlier matches while Nancy, from Hollywood, Fla., was two under, shot the 5,900-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club in 79.

one mile Tuesday at Churchill Downs, five days before 12 or more 3-year-olds take off in the 1 1/4-mile $125,000-adding Run for the Roses before a packed crowd of some 100,000. Post time Saturday is 4:45 p.m. EST, with nationwide television (CBS) scheduled for 4-5 p.m.

Bold Lad, the strapping 2-year-old champion of 1964 from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, finished third back of front-running Flag Raiser and fast-closing Hail to All in the recent Wood Memorial at New York's Aqueduct.

The son of Bold Ruler, whose 1965 campaign has been limited to two starts because of popped splints in his front legs, will be piloted for the first time by Bill Hartack. He has ridden in six Derbies and won four, the last with Northern Dancer in 1964.

While most trainers and other horsemen chose to wait Bold Lad's showing against Darby Dan Farm's Bugler before coming up with any opinion, not so with Jimmy Conway, trainer of Bugler.

"My horse is just a good useful horse," said Conway. "My opinion of Saturday's field is that it is a good average group of 3-year-olds without a definite standout and that goes for Bold Lad, Hail to All, Flag Raiser and Native Charger.

"But if you would ask me as to my choice it would be Tom Rolfe. I liked the way he ran in winning last Saturday's Stepping Stone."

Tom Rolfe, who'll be ridden by Canada's Ron Turcotte, will carry the colors of Raymond Guest, U.S. ambassador to Ireland and a high-ranking polo player.

He won Laurel's Chesapeake Stakes before taking the seven furlongs of the Stepping Stone with Native Charger, Flamingo and Florida Derby winner, 1 1/4 lengths back in second.

Entries for the Derby are scheduled to be made Thursday morning with the payment of $500. It'll cost another $1,000 to get a horse into the post parade.

As of today the starters include Dapper Dan, Dapper Delegate, Swift Ruler, Narushua, Mr. Pak, Carpenter's Rule, Lucky Debonair and Apple Core in addition to Bold Lad, Flag Raiser, Tom Rolfe, Native Charger and Hail to All.

With 12 starters the Derby will be worth $156,000 with $113,500 going to the winner.

Russians Bow To U.S. Stars

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two offensive blitzes in the second half carried the United States All Stars to a lopsided 85-68 victory Sunday night over Russia's touring national basketball team.

The win was the Yanks' third in the four games played, onship is still the biggest one for me," Coach Red Auerbach said. "But when we broke the record for victories this year I really wanted to win to prove we were the greatest team."

For the second straight game and the 11th of their last 22 playoff starts, the Celtics held a rival under 100 points. They held Dick Barnett scoreless after he had averaged 17.5 in the first four games. Tiring West scored 33 but only 12 before intermission. He averaged 40.6 for 11 playoff games.

Boston ran off 20 straight points at the start of the final period for an insurmountable 107-71 bulge. The 20 Celtics' field goals in that quarter were a playoff championship record.

Russell scored 22 points, grabbed 30 rebounds and had four assists before leaving to a thunderous ovation six minutes before the end. Sam Jones also had 22. K.C. Jones tied his personal game high with 20, Johnny Havlicek added 18 and Tom Sanders 16.

"I'll say it again. This is the greatest team I ever saw," said Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus, whose team was eliminated in five games without All-Star forward Elgin Baylor, hobbled by a knee ailment.

"That Boston four-man defensive press and then to find Russell waiting for you under the basket—that's a helluva sight," added Schaus.

Neither Dr. Sachs nor the Celtics would say if there was danger of Russell's eyesight being impaired.

In the jubilant Celtics' dressing room after the game, Russell said the team had dedicated the season to Walter Brown, late club owner and founder.

"The season was something special because we broke the record with 62 victories. Then we proved we were worthy of it in the playoffs," Russell said.

Co. E Starts Camp Program

On Tuesday evening all members of Co. E, of the Michigan National Guard will again start extensive training for spring exercises and annual field training.

Capt. George C. Anderson, company commander, has received plans for the unit's two weeks of training at Camp Grayling, and class assignments will be made on Tuesday evening. This year the bridge company will have instruction on assault river crossings, rigging, anchorages, power boat operation, heavy equipment training, along with the usual heavy bridge construction.

This month's recruiting efforts have gained four new men, with possibly four more yet to be processed. They will be assigned to Lt. Ray Abrahamson's bridge platoon after basic training. The new men are John Johnson and Larry King of Powers, Russell Nelson of Bark River, and Norman Chenier of Escanaba.

This brings the unit's total strength to 78 men, with vacancies existing for 10 more. Sgt. Ivan Gagne of Powers leads as top recruiter.

Briefly Told

Walter Lesk, Rte. 1, Escanaba, was ticketed for speeding by Gladstone Police.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold a regular meeting at the Legion Hall at 8 p.m. today.

The Altar Guild of First Lutheran Church will meet in Fellowship Hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Hostess is Mrs. Lawrence LaVelle.

The Women's Missionary Society of Bethel Free Church will meet at the church at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday. The Rev. Carl Cornelius will be the speaker and special music will be presented. Hostesses are Mrs. Albert Mattson and Mrs. Harold Berg. Visitors are welcome to attend.

State Police of the Gladstone Post issued traffic tickets to the following drivers over the weekend: Stephen B. Nelson, Rte. 1, Gladstone, no muffler; John D. Nelson, Rte. 1, Escanaba, no operator's license; Gladys M. Pepin, Rte. 1, Bark River, driving wrong way on divided highway; Francis J. Brunette, N. 13th St., Gladstone, no operator's license.

Albert C. Anderson, 610 N. 8th St., Gladstone, applied his brakes fast enough to avoid hitting a deer on Co. Rd. E-2, Cornell Township, at 7:20 p.m. Sunday, but apparently was too fast for Irving C. Anderson, 810 Superior Ave., Gladstone. Irving's car struck Albert's in the rear. State Police ticketed Irving Anderson for following too closely.

Mr. and Mrs. William LaCroix and Mr. and Mrs. John Schram spent the weekend in Milwaukee. They also visited the Peter Schram's in Fondulac and the John Norby's in Madison.

Negro Heritage Day Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New York congressman says Negroes should follow the custom of other ethnic groups and honor their heritage with a special day.

Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., told the convention of the Medical Committee on Human Rights Friday such an affair could be patterned after St. Patrick's Day.

"It might be called 'Negro Heritage Day,'" he said. "It would be a day of singing and dancing, and celebrating in the home, in our streets and in our parks."

"It would be a day when a Negro's white neighbors and friends would join in the celebration, just as all Americans join in the celebration of St. Patrick's Day."

Legislation Has Press Influence

LANSING (AP)—A survey of reporters covering Michigan's legislature indicated that most of them agree the press has an influence on the lawmaking process.

The findings were disclosed in a study made by Albert Kaufman, former capitol reporter for The Detroit Times. Details were published in a thesis submitted to Michigan State University.

"The integrity of the Lansing press corps is not at issue," Kaufman said, "because essentially (the reporters) are considered by the profession to be among the best in the nation."

All newsmen interviewed in the survey had served at least two years on the capitol beat on a full-time basis. Virtually all spoke freely and frankly, Kaufman said, when assured that they would not be identified by name.

Kaufman found that among legislative reporters there was no disagreement on the role newspapers should play in the legislative process, saying:

"They were unanimous in their opinion that newspapers have attempted and should attempt to influence legislators regarding public policy. They differed only in degree."

As one reporter put it: "That's their purpose. It can't be any other way. The only question is whether the insistence of an editor to get a legislator to vote a certain way is detrimental to the entire state."

Another reporter was quoted as saying that many legislators do not know how to vote and therefore depend on newspapers and editorialists for guidance because the lawmakers don't have time to research the hundreds of bills that pass through a session.

In general, Kaufman said, the reporters contended that the American people depend on newspapers to express protests or approval, and by having access to information newspapers are obligated to speak for the public.

Try To Avoid Bias

The majority agreed they felt it improper to report on the private lives of legislators unless their public duty was affected.

"They are elected as legislators, not saints," said one reporter. "Some have girl friends, some drink too much, others drive too fast."

Another said: "I'm not interested about legislators showing up drunk, or where he goes to church. I'm interested in what he does, and how he votes on issues affecting the public."

Can a legislative correspondent be completely objective?

"It is axiomatic among reporters to approach their assignments objectively and without bias," Kaufman said. "However, the Lansing press corps was divided on whether objectivity was possible, or even desirable."

"Generally, they tended to agree...that complete objectivity is impossible because objects, standards and past experiences always interpose themselves, that man is the prisoner of the sum total of his experiences, that value judgments are always present."

Some Admit Pressure

Kaufman said all of those interviewed agreed that press association reporters were the most objective because of the large number and mixture of newspapers, radio and television stations they service with their news wires.

Press association newsmen have to report virtually everything that happens in the legislature, it was explained, and therefore do not have the opportunity to disregard some events as do reporters for individual newspapers.

The Lansing reporters were asked whether they attempted to influence legislators and if so, why and how. The majority stated frankly, Kaufman said, that they did attempt to influence legislators in varying degrees. A minority replied: "Never."

One reporter explained that he sometimes went to friends in the legislature and pointed out the implications of pending legislation which they admitted they were not aware of.

All of those who admitted such attempts at influence saw no harm in their activity, Kaufman reported.

"Without exception, they said they believed that what they were doing was in the public interest because it reflected no private gain for themselves or their paper."

Handout Technique

The survey showed that attempts to influence are not a one-way street between reporters and legislators.

The majority agreed that lawmakers attempt to influence reporters by using techniques variously described as the "friendly leak" or the "button-holding" process.

As one reporter put it: "Somebody is always working on somebody, over drinks at bars, passing remarks, floor debates and through the 'handout' technique."

Some legislators suggest stories, volunteer viewpoints which they hope to see in print and try to be friendly with reporters, Kaufman found, adding:

"Generally, reporters agreed that the legislative process is like a market-place where someone is always buying or selling political viewpoints, and not infrequently, the sales target is the reporter."

Asked whether newsmen can maintain a completely detached viewpoint in their relation with legislators, most of them said it wasn't possible.

"You are thrown together with lobbyists, legislators and administrators to the point where you become part of the operation," one reporter replied. "You can't be an island and live alone."

Michiganders Urged To Sell State To Others

Every citizen should be a Michigan Minuteman and take advantage of all opportunities to talk with people from other states and nations about the resources and advantages of his state, urged Edwin O. George, vice president of Detroit Edison Co. and president of the Greater Michigan Foundation.

George was on the campus of Northern Michigan University, Marquette, for the monthly Board of Control meeting, where he serves as chairman of the board.

The Minuteman program is carried on in connection with the annual Michigan Week as a year-around citizen selling campaign for the state.

The effort is to enroll all Michigan people to talk up Michigan when they travel outside the state and when they meet people from outside the state who are visiting Michigan.

Citations will be awarded for the most outstanding contributions as Michigan Minuteman.
